Team: 3

Sprint: 2

Date: 02/09/2020

Attended:

Scrum Master: Darren Lieu

Product Owner: Mohamad Ali

Development team: Benny Yang, Ben Cracknell, Mitchell Slavik, Yin Yen Chong

1. Things That Went Well

- Group coding session
- Good communication and consistent effort being put in
- Supported each other with any issues we have
- Kept up with our task
- Everyone was present during meet up
- Seek advice from product owner when needed

2. Things That Could Have Gone Better

- More meetups with group
- Assign tasks evenly
- Do more research outside of tutorial

3. Things That Surprised Us

- Complexity of Axios
- Front end not working due to the lack of Node modules
- One of the group members' frontend React is not compiling as expected

4. Lessons Learned

- How the objects are being stored in the frontend
- How the objects are being stored in the backend
- Further understanding how Spring Boot and React work

5. Final Thoughts

In conclusion, our team remained positive throughout the sprint. We welcomed our newest member, and he was a great addition to the team. We were able to complete all the sprint documents to the standard we last achieved. Through the help of the product owner, we learnt that our product backlog needs to be moved onto Trello. Next sprint, we will focus on coding more features into our API as we have gained a better understanding of Spring Boot/React.
